DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's election without traverse of 1-29 in the reply filed on 7/13/2006 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1,5-9,10,14,17,19,20,23,26 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The algorithms for "using the data from the consumers to negotiate a price" is vague and indefinite" as to how the information is transformed into a price.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1,5,9,10,14,19 and rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US 7,146,330.

The prior art teaches the method comprising the steps of:

Art Unit: 3693

a) posting, in a manner electronically accessible to consumers, notice of a proposed virtual purchasing collective; b) receiving data from consumers interested in purchasing the product; c) incorporating the consumers into a virtual collective; and d) using the data from the consumers to negotiate a price on behalf of the virtual collective. (see figure 4, and claim 1). The examiner interprets the information to be the a bid price.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 17,20,23 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over 7,146.330.

The prior art fails to teach the method of wherein the price per unit negotiated in step d is a price lower than the price per unit collected from the consumers to whom the units of the product are delivered so as to generate a profit and with the step of collecting a commission from consumers that take delivery and pay for their respective numbers of units. Both of these features are directed methods for the intermediary agent to realize a profit, it would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time to have modified the prior art as motivated by the need to generate a profit for the third party hosting service. Moreover, it would have been obvious for one skilled in the art to have adopted the invention of the prior to accommodate the products of claim 23 as motivated by the need to expand the product offerings.
